Dry Whole Milk - U.S.

Report 14 - Released on April 04, 2019

This week, national dry whole milk free on board (f.o.b.) spot prices are steady. The market undertone remains stable throughout the country. In general, the domestic demand for dry whole milk is fair to good ahead of the upcoming spring festivities. Some manufacturers anticipate an uptick in sales very soon, particularly during the upcoming confectionery season. Dry whole production is intermittent, mostly dictated by contractual needs. However, dry whole milk inventories are reported as balanced across all regions of the country. The March 2019 Dairy Market News monthly average for the National price series for dry whole milk is $1.6221.

Prices for: U.S., All First Sales, F.O.B., Conventional, and Edible Dry Whole Milk

Price Range - 26% Butterfat; $/LB: 1.6000 - 1.6500

Information for the period April 1 - 5, 2019, issued weekly
